

Penn-Farley Station, NY EA

Environmental Assessment

This Environmental Assessment (EA) evaluates a proposal by the Pennsylvania Station Redevelopment Corporation (PSRC) to transform portions of the James A. Farley Post Office (the Farley Building) in New York City into an intermodal transportation facility and commercial center which will provide Amtrak, commuter rail, and subway passengers with a contemporary, safe, and efficient facility that meets present and future transportation needs. This work will complement ongoing rehabilitation within the Pennsylvania (Penn) Station Complex by Amtrak, Long Island Rail Road, and New Jersey Transit.
