

Note Added by FRA

May 2025

FRA takes care to ensure the accuracy and completeness of all data in each annual enforcement report. Information in each of FRA's annual enforcement reports is based on information that FRA had at the time that the agency issued the report. If FRA receives more accurate or corrected information after publishing the report, FRA updates the enforcement data in its enforcement database and records. Therefore, reports FRA previously issued may not match the current data in FRA's recordkeeping system. Specifically, the number of violations associated with individual cases and the total number of violations shown in the report's Appendix may be incorrect. Beginning with the FY 2024 enforcement report, if any errors or discrepancies are identified, FRA will include them in the next annual enforcement report, in a section addressing such errata.

Federal Railroad Administration Fiscal Year 2021 Enforcement Report

I. INTRODUCTION

For several decades, the Federal Railroad Administration (FRA) has compiled an annual civil penalty report summarizing the civil penalty claims for violations of Federal railroad safety and hazardous materials (hazmat) statutes, regulations, and orders FRA has closed.¹ As authorized by law, FRA issues orders assessing civil penalties for violations of the hazardous materials statutes, regulations, and orders.² Also, as authorized by law, FRA negotiates settlements with railroads and other entities subject to its safety jurisdiction to resolve claims for civil penalties imposed for failures to comply with specific requirements that promote and ensure the safety of the Nation's freight and passenger railroad operations.³

Pursuant to the Rail Safety Improvement Act of 2008, FRA expanded the enforcement report to include more information about FRA's safety enforcement activities.⁴ FRA intends to make the enforcement report, with the additional information, available each year by December 31 for the preceding fiscal year (FY) (i.e., October 1 through September 30).

This FY 2021 report includes the following:

- A summary of rail safety and hazmat compliance inspections and audits FRA or State inspectors conducted and enforcement actions FRA recommended;
- A summary of FRA civil penalty enforcement actions sorted by type of alleged violation and type of respondent, including railroads, hazmat shippers, contractors, and individuals;
- A discussion of the relationship between inspections and enforcement actions, the number and rate of reportable accidents and incidents and railroad safety;
- An analysis of locomotive engineer certification cases brought before FRA; and
- A list of civil penalty cases FRA closed (at Appendix A to this report).

C. FRA AND STATE INSPECTIONS OF RAILROADS, SORTED BY RAILROAD TYPE

1. Class I Railroads

Number of Inspection Reports:	46,510
Defects:	181,404
Units:	2,312,502
Number of Observations:	228,898
Number of Reports with a Recommended Violation:	2,441
Number of Recommended Violation Defects:	4,907
Number of Inspection Days: ⁵	39,664

⁵ The total number of inspection days for Class I Railroads in II.C.1 of this report is less than the sum of all the individual Class I railroads' inspection days cited in II.D.1-8 of this report because FRA inspectors may visit more than one Class I railroad in a day. The same is true for the total number of inspection days for railroads FRA believes are Class II and Class III railroads. See note six for an explanation regarding FRA's determination of Class I, Class II and Class III railroads.

2. Probable Class II Railroads⁶

Number of Inspection Reports:	2,156
Defects:	7,130
Units:	144,333
Number of Observations:	10,138
Number of Reports with a Recommended Violation:	66
Number of Recommended Violation Defects:	121
Number of Inspection Days:	1,966

3. Probable Class III Railroads

Number of Inspection Reports:	15,667
Defects:	54,848
Units:	483,352
Number of Observations:	66,634
Number of Reports with a Recommended Violation:	354
Number of Recommended Violation Defects:	818
Number of Inspection Days:	13,679

⁶ FRA has identified seven of the eight Class I railroads based on information they filed with the Surface Transportation Board (STB) for calendar year 2020—the latest full year available—regarding their annual operating revenues. See STB Web site (<http://www.stb.dot.gov>) under <https://prod.stb.gov/reports-data/economic-data/annual-report-financial-data/>, which provides a list of railroads that have filed such information by year. STB requires such filings only from Class I railroads. See 49 C.F.R. § 1241.11 and Ex Parte No. 393 (Sub-No. 2), decided Oct. 28, 1988, 1988 WL 224990 (I.C.C.). Therefore, FRA identified the eighth Class I railroad, Amtrak, based on FRA research of other data. Generally, Class II and III railroads are not required to report their annual operating revenues to STB. As a result, FRA identified railroads that are probably Class II and Class III railroads based on its research of railroad revenues, which does not cover commuter railroads. FRA concludes that the following railroads are probably Class II railroads: Alaska Railroad Corp.; Buffalo & Pittsburgh Railroad, Inc.; Florida East Coast Railway Co.; Indiana Rail Road Co.; Iowa Interstate Railroad, Ltd.; Montana Rail Link; Paducah & Louisville Railway Co.; Springfield Terminal Railway Co. and other regional railroads (including Boston & Maine Corp., Maine Central Railroad Co., Pan Am Southern LLC, and Portland Terminal Co.) (all held by Pan Am Railways, Inc.); Rapid City, Pierre & Eastern Railroad, Inc.; Wheeling & Lake Erie Railway Co.; and Wisconsin & Southern Railroad Co. Note that switching and terminal railroads are, by definition, Class III railroads, without regard to their annual operating revenues. 49 C.F.R. § 1201.1-1(d).

III. SUMMARIES OF CIVIL PENALTY INITIAL ASSESSMENTS, SETTLEMENTS, AND FINAL ASSESSMENTS IN FY 2021

A. IN GENERAL⁷

Summary 1

Summary 1 provides a broad overview of penalties FRA initially assessed during FY 2021, the initial penalty assessment for cases closed during FY 2021, and the amount of the settlement or the final assessment of civil penalty. FRA has transitioned to a paperless enforcement system, and under that system, a case includes only one violation report, and not multiple reports, as in the past.

Summary 1, below, provides the following:

- The number of violations for which FRA assessed a civil penalty in FY 2021 (through demand letters or, in hazmat cases, notices of probable violation);
- The number of violation reports that FRA declined to enforce in FY 2021 after legal review;
- The initial amount of civil penalties assessed in FY 2021 (the amount of the civil penalty specified in FRA’s demand letter or, for hazmat cases, a notice of probable violation that was transmitted to a respondent (i.e., railroad, hazmat shipper, contractor, or individual that received the penalty assessment)) regardless of whether FRA closed the cases during FY 2021;
- The civil penalties FRA initially assessed (the “potential collectible amount” or “POCA” listed in in Appendix A) in all cases FRA settled or otherwise closed during FY 2021; and
- The total amount of civil penalties assessed or settled during FY 2021.⁸

⁷ The totals in this section exclude civil penalties against individuals. Those are addressed in section IV.A. of this report.

⁸ In this report, FRA rounded settlement amounts to the nearest whole dollar.

Summary 2

To provide more transparency, Summary 2, below, shows initial assessment information only for those cases closed during FY 2021. All numbers in Summary 2 reflect the initial assessments that resulted in FY 2021 settlements or final assessments even though the initial assessments may have occurred in a prior fiscal year. This summary shows (1) the difference between the initial amount of civil penalties assessed and the settlement or final assessment amount, and (2) the difference between the revised assessment amount (or what Appendix A describes as the “provable collectible amount” or “PRCA”) and the final assessment or settlement amount. The revised assessment amount is the amount FRA calculated it could legally collect after evaluating the facts of the violation.

Caveat: The number of violation reports in a single case may range from one to five or more, depending on a number of factors, and a single violation report may allege one or more violations. Therefore, the number of cases with civil penalties initially assessed or settled or finally assessed during a specific period cannot be used for a realistic comparison. This report provides the information, as required by the statute, in Summary 1 and Summary 2. However, the number of violations provides a better opportunity for standardized review and comparison than does the number of cases.

⁹ This category may be over-inclusive as STB jurisdiction may not extend to some of the commuter railroads that FRA has listed as Class III railroads. Regardless, the “Total final civil penalty assessment or settlement in FY 2021” amount remains correct as FRA includes data from enforcement actions against regulated entities that are otherwise not subject to STB jurisdiction.

6. For Other Cases in the Aggregate in FY 2021¹⁰

Number of cases with civil penalties initially assessed:	78
Number of violations with civil penalties initially assessed:	92
Number of violation reports declined during legal review:	0
Initial amount of civil penalty assessed:	$479,497

V. DISCUSSION OF RAILROAD SAFETY—THE RELATIONSHIP OF INSPECTIONS, ENFORCEMENT, AND ACCIDENTS OR INCIDENTS

In 2008, FRA was statutorily mandated to commission a report by an independent consultant examining FRA’s approach to achieving industry compliance with the Federal railroad safety laws and the hazmat transportation safety laws and their implementing regulations, and the role of civil penalties in that process.¹² The final report, dated July 15, 2009, was entitled, “The Federal Railroad Administration’s Use of Civil Penalties in the Federal Railroad Safety Program.” This report concludes on page 13 that—

[t]he fair and professional conduct of an agency’s regulatory function requires the informed exercise of discretion beginning with the FRA inspector on the ground and continuing with FRA’s regional discipline specialist, the regional administrator, and headquarters officials in FRA’s Office of Railroad Safety and Office of Chief Counsel. This use of discretion helps ensure that the agency’s exercise of enforcement power is calibrated to achieve an effect that is proportional to the specific circumstances of a given violation. The final element of the agency’s discretion in the civil penalty context is the exercise of the power to compromise authorized and guided by law, directed by the Executive, and strongly encouraged the Judiciary.

FRA’s exercise of the statutory authority to compromise civil penalty assessments serves the purpose of encouraging compliance by ensuring that the enforcement process is proportional in those cases [in which FRA assesses penalties]. [Using] the enforcement hand, seen (as in the case of civil penalty assessments) or unseen (as during FRA inspectors' daily interactions with railroad personnel regarding safety issues), as consistently as possible across the railroad industry . . . results in a rational, effective safety program.

As the independent consultant noted, FRA has long sought to determine whether enforcement actions measurably correlate with the imposition of civil penalties and with specific safety performance improvements. While the available data permits some measurement of safety improvements in a functional area covered by an entire rule or an entire safety program, the data cannot be used to determine whether detectable safety improvements are directly attributable to discrete civil penalties.¹³ Accordingly, FRA relies heavily upon the knowledge and expertise of its field inspectors who are most familiar with the unique attributes of specific railroad operations, geographic territories, facilities, and safety practices. Subjectively, their nuanced perceptions and judgments indicate that issuing civil penalties yields observable improvements in safety practices and compliance with the law. However, it is important to note that civil penalties are not FRA's only enforcement tool.

Thus, while FRA cannot precisely quantify the impact of civil penalties, it carefully monitors railroad reactions and responses to enforcement activity, and adjusts the intensity and duration of focused oversight as necessary. FRA compiles and analyzes a vast amount of data derived from reports the regulated railroads prepare and file with FRA. However, the independent consultant's report submitted to Congress found that the data FRA uses to identify and track safety trends is typically developed separately from regulatory provisions that ameliorate the conditions leading to particular accident causes that have civil penalties associated with them. Results of this research found no meaningful correlation between specific accident cause codes and use of a civil penalty to enforce a specific regulatory provision, making statistically valid and reliable comparisons exceedingly difficult and statistically suspect or grossly inaccurate.

In addition, examining FRA's civil penalty enforcement in a vacuum, without considering the numerous other factors influencing positive safety outcomes, such as railroad management and individual rail worker behavior and activity, is not possible. One must consider FRA's regulatory regime as a whole instead of as its component parts. Specific regulatory provisions can complement one another to minimize or prevent conditions that contribute to an accident. However, the complexity of the regulatory scheme may conceal the magnitude of any one regulatory provision's contribution to the positive safety outcome. As stated in the independent consultant's report on page 41—

[o]ne fruitful way to take a holistic view of the effects of the safety program is to look at accident rates over the long term. Rates, which are normalized by million train miles traveled, more reliably indicate the true state of railroad safety than do raw accident numbers. As FRA began to promulgate the first versions of major rules such as track safety standards and power brakes in the 1970's, the adverse trend in railroad safety was slowed and then sharply reversed. There are few sharp lines of demarcation because railroads and shippers often began to modify their behavior during the rulemaking process; a new safety rule typically takes effect a considerable time after it is issued; and enforcement can occur only after the effective date of the rule.

¹³ FRA's Locomotive Engineer Review Board (LERB) reviews petitions for initial review of railroad decisions denying or revoking locomotive engineer certifications (49 C.F.R. part 240), while the Operating Crew Review Board (OCRB) reviews petitions for initial review of railroad decisions denying or revoking conductor certifications (49 C.F.R. part 242). Because both Boards share the same board members, FRA merged the two review boards, effective January 14, 2021, so that both crew members will have their petitions reviewed solely by the OCRB. See 85 Fed. Reg. 81290 (Dec. 15, 2020).

¹⁴ The LERB/OCRB endeavors to render a decision on each petition within 180 days from the date that the railroad's response is received or from the date upon which the railroad's response period has lapsed, which equates to 240 days from the date the petition is filed. This excludes any delay issuing an interim order may cause, where one or more of the parties initially provided incomplete information. Due to requests granted through emergency waivers, each railroad is allowed an additional 60 days to file its response, and thus the LERB/OCRB's goals for rendering a decision during most of this period equate to 300 days from the date the petition is filed.

APPENDIX A
“Railroad Safety Civil Penalty Cases Closed during Fiscal Year 2021”

Federal Railroad Administration

RAILROAD SAFETY CIVIL PENALTY CASES
CLOSED DURING FISCAL YEAR 2021

This report summarizes the disposition of all civil penalty cases for which the Federal Railroad Administration (FRA) reached an agreement to collect a civil penalty, issued an order requiring the payment of a civil penalty, or otherwise closed under the Federal railroad safety statutes and regulations and the hazardous materials transportation (HMT) laws during fiscal year 2021. FRA closed cases under most of the railroad safety laws by settlement, and under the HMT laws generally by final orders of assessment. Total penalty settlements and final assessments against companies, summarized in this report, were as follows:

Railroad safety (except HMT)	$ 9,435,143
HMT	$ 2,936,040
Total Civil Penalties	$ 12,371,183

FRA collected no civil penalty settlements or final assessments from individuals for alleged violations of the railroad safety laws.

The Federal Railroad Safety Statutes and Regulations

In the 1890s, Congress began regulating the railroad industry for safety purposes by enacting narrowly drawn laws to deal with discrete rail safety issues such as safety appliances and locomotive inspection. Having determined the need for more comprehensive regulation, Congress enacted the Federal Railroad Safety Act of 1970 (FRSA), which granted rulemaking authority over "all areas of railroad safety...." FRA has exercised this authority by issuing a wide variety of rail safety regulations. See Parts 209 through 244, and 270 through 272, of Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations. Civil penalties are an important means of enforcing those regulations and the safety statutes.

In 1975, the Hazardous Materials Transportation Act (HMTA) added civil penalties to the criminal penalties already available for hazardous materials violations. HMTA regulations, although issued by the Department of Transportation's (DOT's) Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration, are generally enforced by the DOT administration responsible for each mode of transportation, e.g., by FRA in cases involving the transportation or shipment of hazardous materials by rail. In 1994, Congress repealed the FRSA, HMTA, and other Federal railroad safety statutes and recodified them in title 49 of the United States Code, chapters 51 and 201-213.

The Civil Penalty Process

To promote safety compliance, FRA inspectors and participating States submit reports alleging violations of Federal safety and HMT laws and regulations to the Office of Safety Law of the Office of the Chief Counsel. This Office reviews the reports for legal sufficiency, aggregates those of one type containing one or more alleged violations into a single case, assesses a penalty for each alleged violation, and transmits the case to the railroad, shipper, individual, or other entity in a penalty demand letter or, if an HMT case, a Notice of Probable Violation. After a respondent in such a case has conducted its own investigation, and unless the respondent pays the full amount of the initial assessment, negotiations are held, during which the respondent presents defenses or arguments for mitigation and offers of settlement or final assessment are exchanged.

In these negotiations, FRA focuses on applying the statutory assessment criteria to the facts of each case. When an agreement is reached, payment is generally due within 30 days of its execution. A more detailed statement of this process and FRA's enforcement policies are included in 49 CFR Part 209, Appendix A. Where settlement cannot be reached, FRA may refer cases to the Department of Justice for litigation. The Attorney General, with FRA's active participation, may bring suit to enforce the penalty assessed in the appropriate Federal court.

HMT cases are normally concluded by FRA issuing an order of assessment predicated on a finding of a knowing violation. If an HMT case is not resolved informally, a respondent may request a formal hearing on FRA's allegations before a hearing officer designated by the Chief Counsel and then appeal an adverse decision to the Administrator of FRA before judicial litigation.

FRA ordinarily closes the vast majority of its civil penalty cases without need for litigation, consistent with the rail safety statutory scheme that promotes compromise based on specified settlement criteria. The negotiation process takes into account the strengths and weaknesses of each case and the overall goals of the safety program. We believe that collection of these penalties, while just one of many compliance tools FRA uses, contributes significantly to improving regulatory compliance and achieving safety program goals.

FRA identifies railroads and other respondents by a respondent code (see the legend provided at the end of this report), which appears as the letters in the case number after "FRA No. ". FRA typically identifies hazardous materials cases involving shippers by a respondent code beginning with the letter "Z". FRA typically identifies cases involving contractors by a respondent code beginning with the letter "X".

The column labeled "POCA" shows the initial penalty assessed in the case. The column labeled "PRCA" shows the total amount of the initial assessment for alleged violations that FRA concluded it would be able to sustain if the case were litigated. There are two situations when PRCA does not equal POCA. The first situation would be if FRA concluded one or more of the violations initially alleged in the case likely could not be sustained. FRA considers such violations "terminated." The second situation would be if FRA determined that the initial penalty assessment for the violation was incorrect. For such cases, FRA corrects the penalty amount. Such violations are considered "partially terminated."

Cases against individuals (who are liable for civil penalties for willful violations) are identified by the prefix "Indpen" and are listed separately. The "Comments" column shows the violation number of terminated or partially terminated violations.
