RAILROAD SAFETY CIVIL PENALTY CASES
CLOSED DURING FISCAL YEAR 2004

This report summarizes the disposition of all civil penalty cases on which the Federal Railroad Administration (FRA) reached an agreement to collect, or issued an order requiring the payment of, a civil penalty during fiscal year 2004 under the Federal railroad safety statutes and regulations. Cases were closed under most of these statutes by agreements of settlement, and under the hazardous materials transportation laws (HMT) generally by final orders of assessment. Total penalty settlements and final assessments against companies, summarized in this report, were as follows:

Railroad safety statutes (except HMT)	$ 7,967,675
HMT	$ 2,636,245
Total Civil Penalties	$10,603,920

The Federal Railroad Safety Statutes and Regulations

In the 1890s, Congress began regulating the railroad industry for safety purposes by enacting narrowly drawn laws to deal with discrete rail safety issues such as safety appliances and locomotive inspection. Having determined the need for more comprehensive regulation, Congress enacted the Federal Railroad Safety Act of 1970 (FRSA), which granted rulemaking authority over "all areas of railroad safety." FRA has exercised this authority by issuing a wide variety of rail safety regulations. See Parts 209 through 244 of Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations. Civil penalties are an important means of enforcing those regulations and the safety statutes.

In 1975, the Hazardous Materials Transportation Act (HMTA) added civil penalties to the criminal penalties already available for hazardous materials violations. HMTA regulations, although issued by the Department of Transportation's (DOT's) Research and Special Programs Administration, are generally enforced by the DOT administration responsible for each mode of transportation, e.g., by FRA in cases involving the transportation or shipment of hazardous materials by rail. In 1994, Congress repealed the FRSA, HMTA, and other Federal railroad safety statutes and recodified them in Title 49 of the United States Code, chapters 51 and 201-213.

The Civil Penalty Process

In aid of their efforts to promote safety compliance, inspectors employed by FRA and participating states submit reports alleging violations of Federal safety laws and regulations to the Safety Law Division of the Office of Chief Counsel. This Division reviews the reports for legal sufficiency, aggregates those of one type containing one or more alleged violations into a single case, assesses a penalty for each alleged violation, and transmits the case to the railroad, shipper, individual, or other entity under a penalty demand letter or, if an HMT case, a Notice of Probable Violation. After a respondent in such a case has conducted its own investigation, and unless the respondent decides to simply pay the full amount of the initial assessment, negotiations are held, during which the respondent presents defenses or arguments in mitigation and offers of settlement or final assessment are exchanged. In these negotiations, FRA focuses on applying the statutory assessment criteria to the facts of each case. When an agreement is reached, payment is generally due within 30 days of its execution. A more detailed statement of this process and FRA's enforcement policies is included in 49 CFR Part 209, Appendix A. Where settlement cannot be reached, cases are referred to the Department of Justice for litigation. The Attorney General, with FRA's active participation, brings suit in the appropriate Federal court.

HMT cases are normally concluded by issuance of an order of assessment predicated on a finding of a knowing violation. Where an HMT case cannot be resolved informally, a respondent is entitled to a formal hearing on FRA's allegations before a hearing officer designated by the Chief Counsel and then to an appeal to the Federal Railroad Administrator prior to judicial litigation.

FRA ordinarily closes the vast majority of its civil penalty cases without need for litigation, which is consistent with the rail safety statutory scheme that promotes compromise based on specified settlement criteria. The negotiation process takes into account the strengths and weaknesses of each case and the overall goals of the safety program. We believe that collection of these penalties, while just one of many compliance tools FRA uses, contributes significantly to improving regulatory compliance and achieving safety program goals.

Deputy Chief Counsel

Abbreviations Used in this Report

The type of violation alleged in each civil penalty case can be identified using the following codes, one of which appears as a suffix to each case number:

AD	Alcohol and drug regulations
AR	Accident reports laws and regulations
BW	Bridge Worker Safety Standards
EO	Emergency Order (under 49 USC § 20104)
EP	Railroad Safety Enforcement Procedures
EQ	Engineer qualifications regulations
FCS	Railroad Freight Car Safety Standards
GC	Grade Crossing Signal System Safety
GS	Safety Glazing Standards
HMT	Hazardous Materials Regulations
HS	Hours of service laws
HSR	Hours of service record keeping regulations
LI	Locomotive inspection laws and regulations
NE	Railroad Noise Emission Compliance
PEP	Passenger Train Emergency Preparedness
PEQ	Passenger Equipment Safety Standards
REM	Rear end marking devices regulations
ROP	Railroad Operating Practices
ROR	Railroad Operating Rules
RSP	Radio Standards and Procedures
RW	Roadway Worker Protection Rules
SA	Safety appliance laws and regulations
SI	Signal inspection law and regulations
TS	Track Safety Standards

Railroads are identified by their common industry designation (see the legend provided), which appears as a prefix to the case number. Hazardous materials and emergency order cases involving shippers are identified by a case number beginning with the letter "Z." Cases involving contractors are identified by a case number beginning with the letter "X." The column labeled "POCA" shows the initial penalty assessed in the case. The column labeled "PRCA" shows the total amount of the initial assessment on violations on which FRA concluded it would probably be able to sustain its burden of proof if the case were litigated. PRCA is equal to POCA, therefore, unless FRA concluded that one or more of the violations initially alleged could likely not be sustained. In that case, such violations are considered terminated. Cases against individuals (who are liable for civil penalties for willful violations) are identified by the prefix "Indpen" and are listed separately.
